Try a fitting route to real success

CHEAPER tyre prices, an easy-to-use website and a well-known name are driving more customers to online tyre retailer etyres, whose franchise owners are taking on extra vans to cope with the rising demand. Managing director Tony Bowman said: "A growing number of our franchise owners are ordering second and third vans because there is so much work coming in and they don't want to turn down sales. One of our teams has just taken on a fifth van." The company puts its success down to a convenient mobile fitting service at low prices. Orders are taken online or via the national call centre and carried out by a network of franchise partners. Franchises can be run as a sole trader or management opportunity and key areas are still available. Training and support are provided.

GARAGE Door Restore transforms old and unsightly garage doors without having to replace them. It now offers customers a faster and greener service, and gives its network of appointed agents a competitive advantage in the market. The company has developed a glass-reinforced plastic garage door skin that can be attached to a garage door, saving money and needing no annual upkeep. Recent input from the business support programme Eco Innovation Programme (EIP) has helped Garage Door Restore reduce installation time by 30 per cent and offer customers a next-day service. Business development director Damian Webb said: "Because we are restoring doors instead of replacing them, our products have a clear environmental benefit. The EIP support has helped us to streamline our service, which is better for our customers and agents alike." Garage Door

Restore agents come from a variety of backgrounds. The latest to join the fast-growing network is Jeff Rutherford from Northumberland. Mr Webb added: "You need reasonable DIY skills, but the technique is easy to learn. This is a home-based business that does not require storage or van facilities. With our projections for demand almost doubling, we need to appoint more agents."

Yes, this really is a hearing aid!

- Stylish
- Compact
- Convenient

Can't quite hear your wife or husband, the TV, colleagues at work, or the loving words of your grandchildren?

Then these spectacle hearing aids could be the answer if you have a hearing problem.

Stylish frames that cleverly contain and disguise a digital hearing aid in the spectacle arms slip easily into your pocket, purse or handbag. They are a remarkable invention that overcomes two problems at once.

While most people are not bothered by wearing glasses, the same cannot be said for wearing a hearing aid. These specs are brilliant because you wouldn't think they are a hearing aid.

Some people can find it uncomfortable and unnatural to have a hearing aid in their ear but that's not a problem with these as there's nothing in the ear to irritate you.

So if you want to have clear vision and quickly improve your hearing, apply now for a free information pack by sending the freepost coupon or by calling the number below.
